

Masters in Public Broadcasting opportunities at Ohio U. It's a terrific program and there's a $15,000 stipend.

MA Degree in Public Broadcasting

Graduate Associateship Opportunities

The Ohio University School of Media Arts and Studies and the WOUB Center for Public Media in Athens announce graduate associateships for women and persons of color to study public broadcasting in a 12 month (September 2009 to August 2010) MA Program. Concentrations are available in the following Areas: Management, and Children's Programming. Over the year, students receive a total stipend of $15,000 plus tuition waivers for four quarters.

Room, board, general expenses, insurance, and student fees are the responsibility of the student. The program has been ongoing since 1981 and has trained over 100 public broadcasting professionals to return to a career with specialized skills through course work in the School and professional work at WOUB.

Requirements for the program are two years of full-time work in public broadcasting and a baccalaureate degree with at least a 2.5 grade point average.

Materials are being accepted now. The closing date is March 27, 2009. Contact: Charles Clift at clift@ohio.edu <<mailto:clift@ohio.edu>> .
